

Irregular Pavilion-Justin Bascome-Dickinson

Foundation Architecture

Email: justinbascomed@gmail.com

The design of my pavilion stemmed from the idea of being different. I wanted to plan a pavilion that is abstract and does not fit the traditional look of a Preston building. Other things that helped push my idea along include the concept of clean energy as well as using natural lighting. My pavilion started as an abstract geometric shape and over the course of the class has developed into what we see today.

